

Sober

Kimberose

Gone, guess that good old feeling's gone
Should have known that you were wrong for me, wrong for me
Wrong

Refrain

And now that I'm sober
My temperature's a little colder
I see it clearly now, I only fell for you
'Cause I was young, dumb and broken
I hate being sober
My hands are shaking and the nights are lonely
I put my body and my soul through hell for you
Why does it hurt that it's over?

Couplet 1

I've been drunk for three, and fifteen days
Off that perfume that you wear
And that good look on your face
I ignored all my worst fears
And now this liquor won't chase
The thought of you from my head
My mouth still stinks from the taste of it

Refrain

Couplet 2

Don't know why I'm still crying
It's not like you're wide awake
Why am I tossing back whiskey?
I should be popping champagne
And I won't swallow my pride
'Cause I know what I gave
Why should I poison myself
To try and fix your mistakes?

Refrain

Gone, guess that good old feeling's gone
Should have known that you were wrong for me, wrong for me
Wrong
Gone, guess that good old feeling's gone
Should have known that you were wrong for me, wrong for me
Wrong

Refrain

Gone, guess that good old feeling's gone
Should have known that you were wrong for me, wrong for me
Wrong
Gone, guess that good old feeling's gone
Should have known that you were wrong for me, wrong for me
Wrong