

You and You

Michael Mayo

Couplet 1

In time, maybe I can find a life
alive in open doors,
engrossed in chords,
the known is more misleading.

I've grown with the unknown in me
the tale is quick to tell itself given the chance your health is in my hands you've put my words on a pedestal

REFRAIN (x4)

Couplet 2

'Cause now it seems you place your dreams of we in the palm of my hands.
Time and its sands,
they pass on hours second-hand

I don't know how to find your heart when I've lost mine, you can't build houses on a flimsy rock

Given the chance
drop all the song and dance I can't exist on your pedestal

REFRAIN (x2)

Pont

When I hear talk of gold, talk of riches talk of woes,
and the inevitable,

holding tight to our souls,
like an ever-present mold, we survive, latching onto hearts.

Comfort unfolds
like a silent sniper's cold, unflinching stare down the hole

Like the watchers of the world from afar, we unload all our problems on our partners' hearts

Like papers we unfold telling tales, young and old all the riches and the golden wreaths we lay upon our dead when their minds leave their heads a solo journey is another way

REFRAIN (x6)

Refrain

You wanna get closer to me but you need a remedy for all of the drama between you and you
