

Lyin' awake

Steam powered giraffe

Hey
Yeah

Lyin' awake like I've been before but
I'm miles away, I can't stay straight no more
Right in your space, I just walk through your door
But I'm still so far away

Yeah

My eyes don't glow like they did before
Reflecting the light of day, hey, hey
Raveling softly while you speak in time
But I'm still so far away

Lyin' awake like I've been before but
I'm miles away, I can't stay straight no more
Right in your space, I just walk through your door
But I'm still so far away

Ground slips away while the earth decays
I'm tired of breaking day, hey
Turning around at the speed of sound
But I'm still so far away, okay

Lyin' awake like I've been before but
I'm miles away, I can't stay straight no more
I'm right in your space, I just walk through your door
But I'm still so far away

Every day I disobey the way
It seems to me obey is the only word I say today
Lies that grind right through you
Have my mind too firm, the time is up
It's always been on your side

If I'm past reversing, mind's will keep rehearsing
Lies so you won't hurt, tryna swallow your words
Matter of mind, matter of fact, stay on your grind
Come back and recognise in a looser state of mind

Sound disagrees with the roots and trees
Dying to glimpse the day, hey
I've tasted gravel and I've washed it away
But I'm still so far away, okay

Lyin' awake like I've been before but
I'm miles away, I can't stay straight no more
Right in your space, I just walk through your door
But I'm still so far away

Lyin' awake like I've been before but
I'm miles away, I can't stay straight no more
Right in your space, I just walk through your door
But I'm still so far away

Lyin' awake like I've been before but
I'm miles away, I can't stay straight no more
Right in your space, I just walk through your door
But I'm still so far away

But I'm still so far away
But I'm still so far away
