

The suffering

Fishbone

Intro

Couplet 1

I saw the stars in your eyes
And I knew it was puppy school love
You saw the twinkle in mine
Then we both knew it was time to hold our breath (And run and get committed)

We got lost in a sea of love and lust
With a galaxy of trust (We were soon committed)
To each other like a mussel in a clam
To the movies to the mall glued together hand in hand

Pré-refrain 1

And we walked and ran through love land
Everything was fine
Until my baby took me for my very last dime

Refrain 1

Bang, bang, shoot me dead
Thought my baby loved me
But I'd been misled
My, my she sucked me dry
Now the little Ms. wants to say bye bye

Once I was a King
Now I'm wrapped around her finger
Like a diamond ring

The engagement ring
The wedding ring
The church bells ring
And the suffering

Riff

Couplet 2

Understand I'm a man

Who believes in the glory of love (You're a fool and a sucka)

True love is the light shining bright

From the Heavens, The Heavens above (You cold motherfucker)

I believe, I believe it is better to trust

Even when I'm wrong (Be careful you're my brother)

Than to let my fear drive me

From the home where I have belonged

Pré-refrain 2

She was my Queen on reserve to protect and serve

Then she threw me a curve

Skam skimmin' gold diggin'

Kick me to the curb

Refrain 2

Solo

Couplet 3

I know what they say on the street

She's a cheat and a thief and a liar (And everybody knows it)

But she's my light and my love and my hope

And my only desire (You're anger can't control it)

Pré-refrain 3

She broke the bank, then she took my car

That chick stole my heart

To dare do your part

Should have known from the start

Refrain 3
